WILLIS' INTERVIEW.

It Was Not Well Received at Washington.

IT WAS WHOLLY UNEXPECTED.

Officials Silent on the Subject, but the Associated Press Learns of the Policy Intended to Be Pursued in Hawaii—The Revenue Cutter Corwin Sails For Honolulu on a Secret Mission.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The state department was evidently already informed of the news received in the Associated Press dispatch from Honolulu, by way of Port Townsend, so far as it conveyed the intention of Minister Willis to take no further steps toward carrying out his instructions until he should hear further from the department.

But so far as it conveyed the public utterance in Honolulu by the minister of his intentions, it was news to the department, to the president and to his cabinet. There were indications to show that it was not agreeable news, and the impression was conveyed that the administration is rather disappointed at the manner in which Minister Willis has thus far conducted his mission.

It is evident that the state department received by the Alameda the news that Minister Willis had determined to defer the carrying out of his instructions until he has heard further from his government. It is a fair presumption that the revenue cutter Corwin carries to him the further instructions for which he asks.

The paragraph in the president's message referring to Hawaii was written after the additional instructions to Minister Willis had been dispatched. This paragraph may be taken to reflect the spirit of the instructions. By referring to this it will be clearly seen that whatever doubts or apprehensions Minister Willis may have expressed of the accuracy or good foundation of the Blount report, President Cleveland has not lost any of his absolute faith in the accuracy of the Blount investigation and the justice of his conclusions. It is highly probable, therefore, that the new instructions are a repetition of the old.

An Associated Press representative has received from a reliable source an intimation of the nature of the policy intended to be pursued in Hawaii. The extent of the active influence intended to be employed in behalf of re-annexing Liliuokalani on the throne has probably been exaggerated. The purpose of the administration is believed to be rather to act as an arbitrator as between two parties in dispute and endeavor to prevail on them to agree between themselves. This was contingent upon the confident belief based on the explicit assertion contained in the last letter to Mr. Blount that the provisional government would fall to pieces when notified that annexation was impracticable, leaving an open dispute between the ex-queen and the provisional government leaders.

In that letter, which has not been published, Mr. Blount, under date of Honolulu, July 21, said: "The action of the United States is awaited by all as a matter of necessity. This condition, it can be assumed, will remain until the proposition to annex is accepted or rejected. In the latter contingency no sudden movement is likely to occur. The present government can only rest on the use of military force, possessed of most of the arms on the islands, with a small white population to draw from to strengthen it. Ultimately it will fall without fail. It may preserve its existence for a year or two, but not longer."

Enough is known of Minister Willis' impressions, gained since his arrival in Honolulu, to make it certain that he does not agree with Mr. Blount in this, at least. Whether this impression caused his determination to await further instructions from Washington is a matter of conjecture.

The Associated Press telegram bringing late news from Hawaii was read in the cabinet meeting yesterday from the office copy in advance of publication. It was read with interest and was the subject of consultation in the cabinet, but probably caused no change in the plan decided on after hearing from Minister Willis by the Alameda.

The Hawaiian minister, Mr. Thurston, was not at home, but the little group of Hawaiians at the same hotel, were glad to hear the news by way of Port Townsend and expressed the opinion that it gave cause for encouragement to the friends of the provisional government. The unexpected arrival of a sailing vessel between steamers is due to the break in the continuance of the northwest trade winds of the Pacific, which occur at this time of the year. With unwonted wind from the south sailing vessels can steer a straight course for the northwest coast, and sometimes make the voyage in ten days from Honolulu.

CAPTAIN CUTLER INTERVIEWED.

The Commander of the Klickitat Talks on Hawaiian Affairs.

PORT TOWNSEND, Dec. 6.—In an interview Captain Cutler of the Klickitat said: "Minister Willis told me he was surprised to meet so many broad-minded, law-abiding and thoroughly intelligent people in Hawaii. Willis is religiously inclined, and, to a considerable extent, has associated with the missionary elements in the island and came in contact with the ablest men in Honolulu, all of whom are strongly opposed to restoration of the monarchy, and especially the queen."

"On account of the queen's supposed ungrateful conduct this class of citizens were careful to see that Willis was correctly informed of certain facts that Blount did not choose to consider. After the Alameda sailed for San Francisco and up to the time the Klickitat departed for this port, a spirit of uneasiness prevailed lest Willis was trying to throw the friends of the government off their guard and permit the royalists to gain possession of the government buildings. While I was visiting Commander Barker of the United States man-of-war Philadelphia, Nov. 17, an officer came aboard from the Adams and asked if a short leave was to be permitted. Barker replied no, and that the crews should be held in readiness to land at a moment's notice.

"Willis told me just before I sailed that the United States ought to take decisive and immediate action as the present policy was ruining business interests on the islands."

The Honolulu Commercial Advertiser of Nov. 18, two days after Willis sent out the statement to the public relative to his instructions from Washington and his determination to await further advice, before attempting to execute the orders, came out in a strong editorial. It said:

"United States Minister Willis was no doubt accurately reported when he declared that until he heard from Washington no change will take place in the present situation, nor will any be allowed. He added: 'That any attempt made by any person or persons to make trouble would be promptly checked and punished.' Were the representative or any other power near the Hawaii government to make such declaration there is no doubt that not only this government but also the United States would resent it in the most energetic manner as unlawful interference with the internal affairs of this independent action. We do not question the propriety of Mr. Willis' declaration. We simply point out that the government of the United States holds itself charged with the special duty of maintaining public order and security in Hawaii. To this extent at least America exercises the protection over this country."

The paper further says that ex-Minister Stevens was merely obeying a standing order of the state department, given by Secretary Bayard in 1887 to the American minister in Honolulu, and caused to be given to the naval forces there whenever necessary for "the maintenance of public order." "Stevens has been abused by the present American administration for obeying President Cleveland's explicit order. If Minister Stevens is to be blamed for his interposing last January, then much more is Minister Willis to be censured for threatening to punish disturbers of the peace, which Stevens never did."

The Corwin Sails.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—The United States revenue cutter Corwin sailed shortly before midnight. Her destination is a secret, but it is supposed she is going to Honolulu with instructions for Minister Willis. It is reported that one of the sailors on the Corwin has been bribed to take dispatches from Minister Thurston to President Dole. The captain of the Corwin refused to take letters from Consul Wilder, saying he did not know where he was going.

WHOLESALE THIEVING.

Whole Carloads of Goods Stolen by an Organized Gang.

HAZLETON, Ind., Dec. 6.—For two years past the Indianapolis and Vincennes and the Evansville and Indianapolis railroads have been repeatedly annoyed by having goods in transit stolen from their cars while standing on the tracks at Worthington, the crossing of the two lines. Their losses from this source for the past 12 months is said to aggregate more than $12,000.

Recently the Evansville and Indianapolis management at Evansville put detectives to work, who ferreted out and developed a condition of things which is a revelation and a sensation, for as many as 25 thieves are reported to have been apprehended and the Bloomfield jail filled with them, among the number some heretofore reputable citizens of the place. One of the latest thefts perpetrated was that of a shipment of flour from the Clay City mills. Every sack was taken from the car. By the confession of one of the younger thieves the place of concealment and storage of many of the articles stolen is said to have been divulged.

OHIO SOLDIERS.

They Want the Senate to Investigate the Pension Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Senator Sherman introduced in the senate a number of heavily signed petitions from soldiers of the late war praying that the senate thoroughly investigate the present administration of the pension bureau, orders of suspension and subsequent orders "which claim to modify, but do not, and which leave us in doubt as to the exact relations we sustain to our government as survivors of the late war."

The petitions come from the following towns in Ohio: East Liverpool, Osborn, Lawrence county, Martinsville, Bloomington, Castalia, Wayne county, Fultonham, Reform, Findlay, Sandfork, Waynesborough, Windham, Waterville, Pyromont, Monroe county, Chandler, Montville, West Manchester and South Bloomington.

Sherman also laid before the senate petition of the chamber of commerce of Cincinnati favoring the passage of Congressman Caldwell's bill providing for the punishment of train robbers and wreckers.

Thrown From a Buggy.

LEBANON, O., Dec. 6.—R. W. Gilchrist was thrown from his buggy and probably fatally injured. He is one of the wealthiest citizens of Warren county.

For rivers and harbors a total of $12,510,000 is estimated, an increase of more than $5,000,000 over the appropriations for the current year. Of this amount $7,500,000 is to be expended upon such works as may be directed by congress. Some items in the list are: Galveston, $500,000; St. Mary's river at the falls, Michigan, $300,000; improving Hay Lake channel, Michigan, $150,000; improving Mississippi river from mouth of Ohio river to Minneapolis, $1,625,000.

In case the law is not repealed $11,000,000 will be required for the purpose."

No estimate is submitted for the support of the bureau of American Republics.

TRAGEDY IN A CELLAR.

A Woman Beaten to Death and Then the Murderer Cuts His Own Throat.

OMAHA, Dec. 6.—Martin Anderson, unmarried, cellar clerk at the groceryhouse of Heimrod & Hanson, murdered an unknown woman in the cellar of the store yesterday evening and then cut his throat fatally. Nothing is known of the cause for the tragedy. About 8 o'clock passersby heard a woman scream, "Help, my God, he is killing me."

As soon as possible the police obtained entrance. Anderson had used a paving stone and literally pounded the head of the victim to a jelly. The dead woman was apparently about 30 years old, and almost Anderson's equal physically and made a desperate fight for life. After he had finished his work of murder, Anderson took a dull pocket knife and bagged at his throat, severing both the windpipe and the carotid artery.

THREE BROTHERS.

They Die in Quick Succession Alone and Unattended.

WABASH, Ind., Dec. 6.—Seven years ago the wife of Willis Catten, residing on the line between Wabash and Miami counties, died, leaving her husband and three sons. The eldest son, John, took charge of the household affairs, and since then the four have kept bachelor's hall.

A month ago John died of typhoid fever, a week later another son, Charles, died of the same disease, and last Friday the third and last son died, having been attacked with the fever and receiving no assistance, the old man having been on a protracted drunk. The interior of the cabin where they lived and died is said to have been filthy beyond description, and, as the neighbors were afraid of contagion, the last patient was wholly unattended.

Investigation Requested.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 6.—The governor has requested the state board of charities to make a thorough investigation into the charges against the management of the deaf and dumb asylum. The charges are: (1) The removal of Mrs. Helen A. Rose, the matron, over the protestation of pupils in the institution. (2) Ungentlemanly conduct of Colonel S. B. Clarke, the superintendent. (3) Brutality by attendants as charged in The Sunday News of Nov. 26. Colonel Clarke requested that the governor institute a thorough investigation of the charges, and also inquire particularly into the management of the institution.

Meeting of Dentists.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 6.—The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Ohio State Dental association is being held here. The attendance is comparatively small. The session was opened with an informal address by the president, George H. Wilson of Cleveland. The society at present, Mr. Wilson said, is in an exceedingly flourishing condition. The enrollment book at present contains a list of 100 names, which signifies that the work of the association enthralls all of the prominent young dentists in the state.

Prominent People Indicted.

FORT WAYNE, Dec. 6.—A sensation was caused here yesterday by the report of the grand jury. All the officers and members of the Fort Wayne club, the wealthiest and wealthiest social organization in northern Indiana, were indicted for selling liquor without a license, for violating the 11 o'clock closing law, and for Sabbath desecration. The membership includes many prominent jurists, other professional men, capitalists and business men. The movement was inaugurated by the saloonkeepers.

Two Children Burned to Death.

BLUEBELT, W. Va., Dec. 6.—Two children were burned to death in houses almost adjoining each other yesterday. A 4-year-old son of Charles Dunno, while playing in a room alone, set his clothing on fire, and was almost burned to a crisp before his mother, who had left him but a few minutes, came back. An hour later, while Mrs. Belle Mays was at Dunno's house, lending all in their bereavement, her 3-year-old daughter fell into the fire at home, burning herself to death.

Cleveland Failure.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 6.—Ralph Cohen, dealer in millinery and cloaks at 84 and 86 Euclid avenue, has made an assignment to J. W. Dentsch. The assets are stated at $25,000, and liabilities $35,000. Previous to the assignment Mr. Cohen transferred his leasehold interest in the store to A. W. & J. Sampliner for $26,800, and gave chattel mortgages to several persons for sums aggregating $15,000.

Lake Vessel Burned.

MANISTEE, Mich., Dec. 6.—The passenger steamer Waldo Avery, bound down, took fire yesterday and was beached two miles west of Mackinac City at Guelphine point. The vessel and her cargo are a total loss. The crew and passengers were all landed safely.

COAL MINE ON FIRE.

Four Men Imprisoned in the Slope.

RESCUING PARTIES AT WORK.

But Little Hope of Saving the Unfortunate Men—A Cave-In Bound to Follow, and Should the Fire Reach the Inner Workings Great Destruction Will Be Done. The Loss Reaching $100,000.

HAZLETON, Pa., Dec. 6.—A fierce fire broke out in the Crystal Ridge slope, operated by Pardee & Company, situated about a mile west of this city. Four men are closed in and rescuing parties are working hard to liberate them and bring them to the surface.

This is the same slope in which a fire broke out last spring and did considerable damage to the mine, and it has only been in operation again for a short time. How the fire originated this time is a mystery.

The flames are shooting out of the mouth of the slope and leaping high in the air and threatening a fine breaker which has recently been built, and the only thing that saves it now is the great amount of snow on the trestle work leading to it. Hundreds of men set to work piling up snow on the wood work, but, fearing that this would not save it, sent to this city for a fire engine, and the Pioneer Fire company responded promptly and are now doing good work in trying to save the property.

There is little hope of saving the block and the timbers of that opening must soon fall. A cave-in is bound to follow and the destruction of the property seems inevitable.

No estimate of the damages at this writing, but it will exceed $100,000 if not under control before spreading to the inner workings.

LEHIGH VALLEY STRIKE OFF.

It Was So Declared This Morning at Daylight.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Dec. 6.—The strike on the Lehigh Valley railroad was declared off this morning at daylight, and the old employees are going back to work. Concessions were made on both sides.

The correspondence which led to the termination of the strike was made public at an early hour this morning after Chairman McDonald and Judge Robinson of the arbitration boards returned from their last conference with the Lehigh officials.

In a letter to President Wilbur they asked the following:

"If the existing strike is declared off, will the Lehigh Valley Railroad company agree to take back as many of their old employees as they have places for, without any prejudice on account of the fact that they struck or that they are members of any labor organization; that in re-employing men formerly in its service, the available time shall be so divided among the men so re-employed that they may feel they are again in the service of the company and self-supporting; that in making promotions hereafter the company will make no distinction as between men now in its employ and those so re-employed on account of seniority in service or otherwise, that when in the employ of the road committees from the various classes of employees from the branch of service in which the aggrieved party is employed and their grievances considered and justly treated, and that in employing men in the future the company will give the preference to former employees when the strike is declared off."

President Wilbur in reply said: "The Lehigh Valley Railroad company agree to the suggestions made and in the event of the strike being declared off, will abide by them. We recognize and willingly respond to your modification of our former understanding that the available time may be divided so that the men re-employed may have some certain source of support."

There was a bad wreck at Sugar Notch at 5 o'clock yesterday evening. Two engines were pulling a train up the mountain when they collided with an empty engine. Two of the engines were badly wrecked and one of the engineers fatally injured. The passenger train had the right of way, but the engineer of the single train thought he could reach a siding before the passenger train came up. This is the first accident that has occurred since the block system was adopted.

TOO LONG TO WAIT.

A Woman Obtains a Divorce From a Convict Having Forty Years to Serve.

PARIS, Ky., Dec. 6.—Mrs. Mary Clay was yesterday granted a divorce from her husband, Hume Clay. He is the noted forger now serving a 10-year sentence in the penitentiary for forging his grandfather's name to $100,000 worth of checks and drawing the money.

He skipped to Europe, but returned and confessed all, and was given the above sentence. There are 15 indictments against him in Clark county and he will be tried on these when his time expires. The term in each indictment can not be less than two years.

Mother and Child Perished.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Dec. 6.—In the Cherokee strip, northwest of here, a terrific prairie fire swept the country for miles, doing great damage. John Davis, wife and child of Roberts county, Tex., who were living in a tent on a claim awoke to find flames all about them. Davis attempted to carry his wife to a place of safety, but she rushed back into the flames for her child, and both perished, while Davis had the flesh burned from his hands and face and eyes burned out in vain endeavors to save them.

A TELEGRAM from Nashville announces "a big boom in pig iron." English bankers have bid on 100,000 tons, the output of four furnaces for the next six months. Their offer was declined. There has been an advance of 50 per cent. in the price of late.

This initial number of the Montgomery County News is at hand. S. S. Cassity is editor and Henry Watson, business manager. Mr. Cassity has had years of editorial experience, and has always gotten up an excellent paper. His new venture is no exception to the rule. Success to the News.

DEMOCRATS are very well pleased with the President's message and the Republicans appear greatly disappointed and dissatisfied. Mr. Cleveland is no doubt supremely indifferent as to what they think or say of the document. It voices his honest convictions concerning the various subjects treated. He never aims to please.

"WHAT a blessing to the community are the shoe factories," exclaims the Portsmouth Blade, referring to the factories at that point. "There is less destitution and want here," says the Blade, "compared with the number of people, than in any other town of the State." There's a valuable pointer in this for Maysville people who are seeking a profitable investment. Put your money in shoe factories, and where is there a bet-ter location than right here for such enter-prises?

A WRITER in the Lexington Leader "roasts" Professor Hicks on his claiming to be a weather prophet. We don't blame him. Hick's prophecies for November were as far from being right as the East is from the West. In fact, Professor Hicks simply lies like a gas meter. Just pay no attention to this "great" prophet's predictions.—Public Ledger.

"Give the devil his due," is an old say- ing. Mr. Hicks comes as near forecast- ing the weather as any of the so-called prophets. We did not pay much atten- tion to his prophecies for November, but he has certainly "called the turn" so far this month. In his forecasts for Decem- ber, issued some days ago, he said: "We are to expect very active disturbances between the 1st and the 4th. * * * The barometer will fall to low readings in westerly regions in the beginning of the period, followed by storms of rain, with lightning and thunder to the south, and turning to snow in central northerly sections. A sudden and severe cold wave will rush in behind the storms, and by the end of the period—say the 4th to the 6th—the whole country will feel a touch of the wintry blast."

Charles B. Pearce, Jr., qualified as guardian of Elias B. Pearce, with R. P. Jenkins as surety.

Coroner James C. Owens having re- moved from the county, the office was declared vacant, and John D. Roe was appointed to the position. He executed bond with John W. Alexander and Geo. W. Sulser as sureties.

WASHINGTON.

What a pity Colonel Ingersoll should not hurl his eloquent anathemas against vice, immorality and crime, instead of at the Bible, the source of all good.

Hell is the bugaboo with all such men as Bob Ingersoll. Were it eliminated from its pages they would have no cause for controversy with the Bible.

The Ingersolls, the drunkards, the profane swearers and the whisky sellers would all be at their ease in regard to the Bible did it not warn them of a hell to last forever.

No one would take issue with the teachings of the Bible as to the immorality of man did it not only proclaim an immorality of bliss for all men, good and bad alike.

How would it answer to have Bob Ingersoll and others of like views to make a revision of the Bible? It wouldn't take much time. All they would do would be to expunge one word from its pages, and that word would be hell.

It isn't because Colonel Ingersoll can not rec- oncile some particular teachings of the Bible with some of its other teachings that he rejects the whole book, but the real reason is that where- ever it speaks of a heaven for the good it invari- ably mentions a hell for the bad.

MT. GILEAD.

Rev. Peebles did not fill his appointment with us Sunday, owing to bad weather.

We had 104 different kinds of weather from Saturday morning to Monday morning.

Miss Nettie Stone and Harry Wood are visiting the family of Joseph Wallingford, near Nepton.

J. W. Jordan has changed his mind and con- cluded to remain at Mt. Gilead, for another year at least.

Master Charley Thomas has been quite sick for some time past, but at this writing is much im- proved.

Paul Glasecock will move shortly to the old Tom Clay farm, and will cultivate fifty acres of tobacco the coming season.

Miss A. Bradley, Miss Mamie Davenport and Miss Nannie C. Tully were visiting Aunt Jane Coulter Saturday last.

Uncle Howard Farrow is still improving in health. He was able Sunday to go out in the dining room and eat a good, solid dinner.

Prof. Turnpseed met with quite an accident near the Taylor's Mill bridge. His horse began kicking, which so frightened the Professor that he dropped the reins and went head first out at the side of the buggy, taking the curtains and brace along with him, not that he needed them, but that it was more convenient to take them along. Result: A badly scared horse, a worse scared Professor and a mashed-up buggy.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bow- els are sluggish and con- stipated, the food lies in the stomach undig- ested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is de- ranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraor- dinary power and efficacy.

Rev. R. G. Wilder, Princeton, N. J., says:—"I find nothing helps so much to keep me in working condition as Simmons Liver Regulator."

MEXICAN MANIFESTO.

A Revolutionary Circular Sent Broadcast, But Without Signatures.

DENVER, Dec. 5.—A copy of the pronouncement of the Mexican revolutionists has been received at the headquarters of the department of the military at Colorado. It is as follows:

"MEXICAN SOLDIERS: Today we direct ourselves to you in the confidence that we are going to talk with our own brothers. We are sons of the same mother, ours is one flag, one territory; we speak the same language and seek the same aggrandizement of the country and our mutual felicity. Why, then, do we meet with arms in hands destroying one another? Because the tyrants of the village are cunning enough to deceive us.

"The army in the democratic countries is composed of free men and citizens who love their country so they may defend it of as many dangers as may threaten it. But you do not grasp arms of your own will. You lived in tranquility in your town by the side of your mother and brothers, you had a wife that took care of you and your children, that greeted you with caresses. From night until morning you were confined in jail and afterward by a subordinate official taken to a room where you are registered and in the name of your country deprived of your liberty.

"Your mother and brothers remained abandoned, your wife and children have no protection, and since then you live in a square piled together like stubbles and guarded like cattle.

"Is this the condition of free men that subject themselves to military discipline? Answer with your hands on your heart. No. A thousand times no.

"Does the country command these sacrifices for us? He deprives you of your liberty; he would deprive you of the right to live in tranquility by the side of your family. Is not the country but Porfirio Diaz, that bad Mexican, who has mortgaged Mexico in foreign markets—that cursed son who murders his brothers and debases them?

"You then grasp the arms to defend a despicable tyrant, but not to save the country from any danger. We meet face to face because you attempt to defend an injustice; you are the strength sustained by a tyrant that tortures the country to pay you with wretched wages. We are the strength of right, we think what we do nobody pays us to grasp the arms. The wicked and the lackeys give us the name of 'bandits,' but our conscience gives us the names of patriots. We want to live free or die, but not to be slaves.

"We have read a book that was written with the blood of our forefathers. There we are shown to elect our constitutional officers by means of free suffrage; there we are shown to think as citizens and we are elevated to the category of free men. That book is named the political constitution of 1858. If the tyrant who pays you to murder us would govern by that law we should live in tranquil peace, cultivating our land and caring for our families. But we see the injustice committed every day; we perceive the danger in which the country is governed, and we have not hesitated one moment to abandon everything and have rushed to the battlefield to defend the rights of our outraged people.

"Mexican soldiers: If you want to avoid bloodshed join the revolution; it is not just that our mothers remain unprotected; our wives, widows and our sons made orphans to let a tyrant enjoy and distribute the spoils of the nation. We, the revolutionists, defend a principle and seek the salvation of the country. You defend a man who makes you slaves and you seek his aggrandizement. Down with the tyrants. Hurrah for the revolution. Hurrah for Tomochi. Now we pass to manifest to the entire nation the last account of the 14th of April, '93, to date. After having been defeated either for lack of resources or for lack of greater strength of forces we had to abandon the places we occupied making our march under fire.

"About two leagues from the place of siege the soldiers and chiefs of the law could have exterminated the revolutionists.

"Those events having passed they should have followed us, and succeeding in the arrest, they should have gone to a competent authority that we might be tried according to law.

"We have seen in the official paper, which gives the number of the dead to be 40—of the revolutionists—which is incorrect and the same time a deceit. In the battle of Santo Tomas only 23 died. Now the result, according to the list we have before us, there were shot 31 men. Of this number possibly five or six might be guilty of the revolution, the rest innocent.

"If the tyrant has believed he can spite us with fear, converting himself and his forces into murderers, it is to the contrary, as each day we find ourselves more offended, and we do not hesitate to grasp our arms and protest with our last breath in struggling for the defense of our brothers and our country.

"Oh, fatal destiny. He has blinded you and he has engendered malice in your breast. He is a second Nero, Borgia, Cain, the natural son of covetousness, and you have made yourself (porfirio) the disgraced and fatal enemy of justice."

The Late Henry Davis.

Henry Davis, who was found dead in his house near Murphysville Friday morning, mention of which was made Saturday, was a hard drinker and went on protracted spree, and it is supposed that alcoholism was the cause of his death, as he had been on a drinking bout for some days. He was an Englishman by birth, but came to this country from one of the Western States some years ago. He was a first-class house carpenter and made a great deal of money at his trade, but the liquor habit was his besetting evil, and whenever he got any money ahead he would go on a spree until he spent it all. It is said his house was built and arranged in such a way that it is quite a curiosity.

Christmas will soon be here, and the merchant who expects a big trade in holiday goods must use lots of printer's ink. Let the people know what you have to sell and give them the figures on your goods. That's the way the big merchants in Cincinnati advertise.

Among the many pleasant meetings on Thanksgiving day was the bountiful and beautiful dinner given by Mrs. Hal Gray at her hospitable home on Front street, in honor of Mrs. W. R. Dobyns and her two bright little daughters, of Lawrence County, Ohio. Dr. J. T. Fleming, with his never-failing wit, and his genial wife added much to the pleasure of the hour. It is needless to say the hostess was admirable.

Elizabeth Reed, colored, a native of Maysville, died a few days ago at New Richmond. Her first husband, Joe Martin, was a porter on the steamer Handy No. 2 when the boat was in the Maysville and Portsmouth trade. He disappeared one night while the steamer was en route to Portsmouth, and has never been heard from. It was thought he fell overboard and was drowned, but his body was never recovered.

Those who went to the opera house last evening were fortunate, indeed. They enjoyed a rich treat. "Edgewood Folks" as rendered by Alba Heywood and company was one of the best plays seen here in many years. Heywood appeared in a half dozen different characters during the performance and played them to perfection. It is doubtful whether Sol Smith Russell is his superior in this piece. His support too was excellent throughout. There are several fine vocalists in the company and the musical specialties were thoroughly enjoyed. The company deserved a crowded house.

Marguerite Reid. Says the Courier Journal: "Miss Marguerite Reid, the new prima donna soprano of The Bostonians, was for years a protegee of Whitelaw Reid. She first became acquainted with the New York editor while he was American Minister to France. At that time she was studying music in Paris, and Whitelaw Reid encouraged her in so many ways that she, on going upon the stage, took the name of Reid out of gratitude for her distinguished patron. Her real name is Marguerite Kackley."

Of her a Chicago critic speaks as follows: "Miss Marguerite Reid, whose first appearance as Maid Marian was duly chronicled, has proved herself an agreeable singer, and one who uses her voice with an intelligence rare in light opera, where strain and vibrato seem the rule. With increased familiarity with the stage Miss Reid's acting will doubtless assume the qualities now lacking, chief among which is absence of that vivacious interest in the characters about her, a much-needed trait which goes to lend animation and cohesive realism. Her work, however, is marked by a refinement as true as it is grateful, surely an excellent foundation for any young debutante to rest her experience upon."

He received profound attention and enthusiastic applause from a very large and cultured audience. The lecture should go into the homes of every man and boy in the State of Kentucky. The Y. M. C. A. FAILED TO AGREE.
Miners in the Pittsburgh District May Have to Work For a Reduction.
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—The coal miners and operators of the Pittsburgh district failed to agree upon a settlement of the wage difficulty at the joint convention here. A committee of five operators and five miners reported a resolution recommending the adoption of a 55-cent rate, but after a long discussion it was voted down, as too many delegates came to the convention instructed to stand for the 70-cent rate.
When the vote was announced the operators withdrew from the convention in a dissatisfied frame of mind, declaring that henceforth they would have nothing to do with the miners' organization. They also said the men would be working for much less in a short time.
The miners then reconvened, and after three hours' wrangling decided to go back to the pits with the operators' proposition and ask for further instructions.
Another convention will be held Friday, when the miners will give their ultimatum. Many of the delegates favored the acceptance of the proposition and if a settlement is finally made it will likely be the price agreed upon. It is 14 cents per ton less than the rate demanded and 5 cents more than some of the operators are now paying.

GOVERNOR JENNINGS.
A Monument in Memory of Indiana's First Executive.
JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Dec. 6.—A long-needed tribute in the nature of a monument erected to the memory of Jonathan Jennings, Indiana's first executive, will be unveiled at Charlestown, Clark county, Governor Jennings' former home, Dec. 10. Extensive preparations are being made to commemorate the event in a manner befitting the occasion.
Invitations have been sent to many prominent citizens, not only in this state, but in Ohio as well, and it is thought that a large number of those, to whom invitations have been issued, will be present.
The monument is located in the cemetery at Charlestown, and is composed of granite, plain in appearance, but highly finished. It is 8 feet in height, 3 feet in width, with a frontage of 6 feet.
Governor Jennings was born in Pennsylvania in 1784, and came to Indiana territory on reaching manhood. He was three times elected to congress, and was instrumental in organizing the territory of Indiana into a state. He was elected its first governor in 1816. Later he resigned to go again to congress. He died in August, 1834.

Grant's Cottage Sold.
NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The beautiful summer cottage at Elberon, Long Branch, N. J., which was presented to General Grant in 1869 by George Washington Childs, ex-collector Thomas Murphy, General Horace Porter and other friends, has been sold by his widow, Mrs. Julia Dent Grant, to Mrs. E. S. Price of this city for about $33,000. The price paid in 1869 was about $85,000. The cottage is a plain structure, three stories in height, on a plot 200 by 700, and is surrounded by a beautiful lawn and a number of magnificent trees. It is situated on Ocean avenue, between the cottages of George W. Childs and H. C. Fahnestock.

Farmers Swindled.
BREMEN, Ind., Dec. 6.—About 40 farmers four miles east of this city were taken in by two unknown men who called at their residences at a late hour and presented what they purported to be important telegrams, for the delivery of which the strangers demanded sums of from $3 to $4. The messages proved to be bogus. The swindlers traveled over the same section of country in separate vehicles and victimized the neighborhood to the amount of about $160. All efforts to capture them have proved fruitless.

Cork Works Burned.
LANCASTER, Pa., Dec. 6.—Fire destroyed the Phoenix cork works, a large 3-story brick structure, entailing a loss of upwards of $70,000 in building and stock and machinery. The works were absorbed together with two other Lancaster factories a few months ago by a New York syndicate known as Armstrong & Company. The building was stored with an enormous stock of manufactured cork and cork wood, valued at $25,000, which was entirely consumed. Loss probably fully covered by insurance.

Kissed Every Man She Met.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Miss Rosie Dembosky, a young Russian woman who has kept a cigar and candy store at No. 1107 I street northwest for several years, was taken in custody by Officer McGrath, of the First precinct, on the charge of insanity. The arresting officer had his attention attracted to the woman by her persistent efforts to hug and kiss every man she met on Pennsylvania avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets northwest, without regard to size, age, color or condition.

SENATE AND HOUSE.
But Little Accomplished in Either Branch of Congress.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—In the senate, after some routine business, Senator Hoar (Rep., Mass.) introduced a resolution calling upon the president for copies of the instructions to Minister Willis and Admiral Irwin touching Hawaii. It went over at Mr. Sherman's suggestion, because of Mr. Morgan's absence.
Mr. Dolph (Rep., Or.) then addressed the senate upon that part of the president's message relating to Hawaii, beginning with an expression of surprise at the president's persistence in forcibly overthrowing the provisional government in defiance of the almost unanimous sentiment of the press.
At the end of his speech the senate adjourned.

In the House.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The second day of the session of the house was dismal and dull. Not a spark of interest enlivened the proceedings. The only thing of moment accomplished beyond the passage of several small bills affecting land titles in the far west was an agreement to close the general debate on the bankruptcy bill today.

A BRUTAL DOUBLE MURDER.
Two Women Killed For Their Money by a Relative.

ST. JOE, Pa., Dec. 6.—A brutal double murder was committed a mile north of here yesterday. Mrs. James Martin, age 25, and her mother, Mrs. Christian Hesler, age 60, were found by Mrs. Martin's son lying in pools of blood. Mrs. Martin's skull was crushed and throat cut from ear to ear, and her mother's head had been crushed in by a blow from a poker.

The latter was still alive. Before she died she told who committed the terrible crime. It was Harper Whitmire, who had been visiting his mother-in-law. The object of the terrible deed was robbery, and he secured about $200 from a trunk.

Whitmire called at the home of his mother, at Boydstown some hours after the murder and asked for a revolver, saying: "I have killed two women and I want to put an end to myself."

He was refused and was advised to give himself up. He then disappeared. Scores of citizens are searching for him and if he is captured he may be lynched.

HENDERSON, Ky., Dec. 6.—While Lon Watts and Jim Beeler, two negro farmhands employed by Patrick Daly, near Marion, Crittendon county, were scolding hogs in a large iron reservoir, Beeler slipped on the edge of the tank and fell into the boiling water. A loud cry of agony was uttered by the unfortunate man, but before his horrified companion could hook him out he was so terribly scalded that death ended his sufferings in a few minutes.
